THIRTEEN DROWN WHEN TUG SINKS IN MEXICAN GULF FRIDAY IS SAID

BEAUMONT, Texas, Feb. 1.—Thirteen men, comprising the officers and crew of the tug Edgar F. Coney, of Port Arthur, were lost when the tug sank in the Gulf of Mexico yesterday, meager radio advices received here today stated.

No intimation of what disaster overtook the tug was contained in messages received from the Standard Oil tanker Liebre, which reported it was heading for Port Arthur with several survivors picked up at sea.

M. T. Ball, manager of the Sabine Towing Company, of Port Arthur, owners of the tug, said it left Port Arthur Tuesday en route to Mobile with a barge in tow. The survivors were believed to have been the crew of the barge.

SLAIN CAB CHIEF

Barney J. Mitchell, treasurer of the Chicago Checker Taxicab Company, who was shot to death in a taxicab at Ridge and Farwell Aves., Rogers Park, Chicago, January 30. The bodies of Mitchell and Glenn Jackson, driver of the cab in which Mitchell was riding, were found riddled with bullets.

OKLAHOMA SCANDAL REVEALED BY STATE WITNESSES AT TRIAL

One Is Impeached; Women Tells Of Bribe Details

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Feb. 1.—A loud note of irony permeates the Seminole oil field liquor conspiracy trial which entered its fourth day today with Ruth Morgan May, 23, the government's star witness, on the stand.

The jury had heard from Roy Grace, confessed chief collector of tribute from Pottawatomie County bootleggers, that only men of "integrity" were entrusted with the job of taking weekly protection fees. They had heard Grace testify that County Attorney Randall Pittman, one of the thirty-two defendants, had objected to allowing Chief of Police Marion Fuller, of Earlsboro, Okla., to collect from certain resorts because he was a "damn crook."

Grace, cross-examined, admitted he had lived for four years with the wife of another man, but he protested to the jury that he would not have done so had he thought it was a violation of law.

Miss May, whose testimony today promised to furnish the high lights of the trial, was one of about thirty original defendants who pleaded guilty to turn government's evidence. She claimed for herself much of the credit of organizing the whiskey, beer and alcohol rackets in the Seminole area.

She and Deputy Sheriff Oscar Motley, now dead, fixed the price of whiskey at $10 a gallon and beer at $6 a case and secured the consent of Motley's nephew, Frank Fox, then sheriff, to levy weekly toll of from $5 to $50 on the several hundred liquor joints in Pottawatomie County, she said.

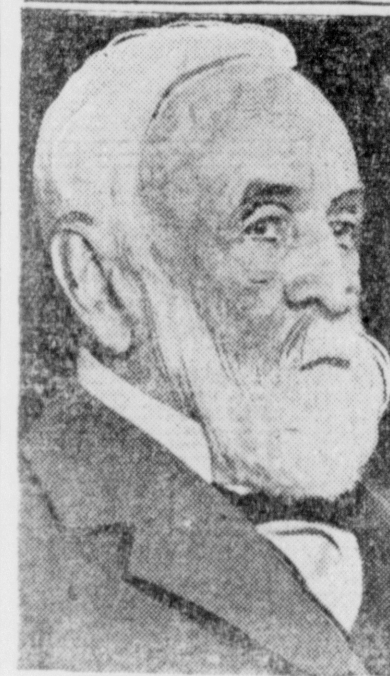

Fox, now out of office, is a defendant in the present trial. Like Grace, Miss May testified that she had witnessed innumerable times the acceptance of packets of currency by Fox and Pittman, representing one-third of the weekly collections from the liquor interests.

It was her duty to make the cut, she said, and despite express orders from Sheriff Fox, she explained, she kept a record of the fees and the split.

Goverment counsel had Miss May's bookkeeping efforts ready for the jury's inspection today.

OHIO VILLAGE BANK LOOTED BY BANDITS OF $2,000 IN CASH

VETERAN TO QUIT

Congressman Charles M. Stedman, 89-year-old representative from North Carolina, who has announced that he will not seek reelection, Mr. Stedman, ex-Confederate, and the last civil war veteran in the house, has been a member of the house since 1911.

"Gentlemen" Robbers Hold-Up Women Employees

BERLIN HEIGHTS, O., Feb. 1.—After locking two women employees into a back room, two "gentlemen" bandits leisurely looted the Berlin Heights bank here today and escaped with cash estimated at approximately $2,000.

The bandits, who were described as "good-looking youths, and well-dressed," fled out in a small blue or gray automobile, according to witnesses. They took a road leading either to Lorain or Elyria.

The women employees in the bank at the time of the holdup, which occurred at about 10 o'clock, were Ruth Boehm, assistant cashier, and Mrs. Mildred Groves, clerk. They told police that the two young men stepped into the bank and covered them with revolvers, forcing them into a rear room, after which they looted the cash drawers.

Clark L. Hines, cashier, had not arrived at the bank at the time of the holdup.

Persons who were passing the bank at the time of the holdup said they saw the two men emerge hastily from the bank and drive off in a small automobile which they described as "either blue or gray."

CANCELS PLANS FOR CRUISER; PROGRAM NOW WITHIN LIMIT

Reduces Building Plans
In Accordance With Conference

LONDON, Feb. 1. — The British Admiralty has cancelled plans for another 10,000-ton cruiser. It was learned today, thus bringing Great Britain's navy building program definitely down to fifteen cruisers of that type in accordance with the agreement of President Hoover and Premier MacDonald.

This was revealed in a written reply of First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander to a question put to him in the house of commons as to exactly what Britain's navy building program was. The 10,000 cruisers Surrey and Northumberland were definitely cancelled the beginning of this week. The latest cancelled cruiser was the only one authorized by the government upon which construction had not been begun.

Britain now has eleven 10,000-ton cruisers in operation and four more under construction. While the curtailment of Britain's cruiser building program was welcomed in conference circles today, it contributed nothing toward the solution of the principal problem now before the delegates to the five-power arms parity — the working out of a compromise between limitation by global tonnage or by categories.

As the majority of the chief delegates were enjoying their usual English week-end in the country, technical experts of the various delegations were busy studying the modified French proposal for global tonnage which was presented as a working basis for a compromise.

FIXER KILLED BY GANGSTERS

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—A reputed "fixer" and investigator, who eked out a living by spying upon the activities of gangland syndicates, went to his death here today before blazing machine guns.

Julius Rosenberg, the investigator, was shot down on the street by three men who leaped from an automobile, placed guns against his head and roared: "let him have it."

The "fixer" slumped to the sidewalk dead and his slayers jumped into their machine and escaped. Rosenberg had been employed recently by the Chicago crime commission and other organizations seeking data for a crime survey. Police believe Rosenberg was slain by the men he had sought to spy upon.

WOMAN CONVICTED OF CHECK FORGERY

CHILLICOTHE, O., Feb. 1. — Found guilty of having uttered and published a forged highway payroll check, by a jury, Mabel F. Lewis, 38, awaited sentence here today. She was formerly an employee of the division highway engineer's office here.

The penalty for "uttering and publishing" is one to twenty years in Marysville Reformatory. Defense counsel indicated an appeal would be made.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—In a dug-out near the South Pole a young member of the Byrd Antarctic expedition has for two years been pouring over engineering books. And today the youth—E. J. Demas—should be happy for New York University has radioed him that because of his studies he has been awarded a scholarship. Demas was recommended by radio for the scholarship by Admiral Byrd.

TUNNEYS PLAN TRIP

FREE IN NIGHTIE

DAYTON, O., Feb. 1. — J. D. Blubaker, is free today after making his escape from the city workhouse here last night clad only in his night clothes. He was serving a special sentence for escaping a month ago while serving out a liquor sentence.

ENJOY LUNCHEON

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The chief delegates to the naval conference, accompanied by their wives, were the lunch guests of Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald at his country place "Chequers" today.

Other members of the American delegation spent the afternoon golfing at Stanmore, Middlesex.

All inter-delegation informal discussions have been suspended until Monday. Premier Andre Tardieu of France is returning to Paris this afternoon, and will not be back until Tuesday or Wednesday of next week. All the delegates remaining in England are spending the week end in the country at one place or another.

FEAR LOST FLYERS WERE DEVoured BY WILD ANIMALS

Rescue Crews Still Digging For Bodies Of Aviators

NOME, Alaska, Feb. 1.—Nine men resumed digging operations today in their search for the bodies of Lieutenant Carl Ben Eielson and Earl Borland, whose shattered plane was found in Siberia.

The natives and fliers who have been searching the snow drifts surrounding the wreckage were joined yesterday by two men who were brought from the ice-bound trader Nanuk.

During the past week searchers have found personal effects of the fliers, including Borland's flying helmet, but have located no trace of the bodies.

INDICTED PARTY BOSS IS MISSING

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 1.—Arriving here today on his way to Fairbanks, Alaska, Ole Eielson, father of the missing Arctic flier, declared he fears his son's body was devoured by wild animals.

In stating his theory, Eielson pointed out that searchers have reported finding pieces of wearing apparel belonging to the two men, but are unable to find the remains.

AMARILLO IS ON MAP FOR SURE

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—When the ten thousandth telephone was installed last night in Amarillo, Texas, Ernest Thompson, the mayor of that town, got excited and called his wife, May Peterson, the opera singer in New York, to tell her all about it.

He couldn't reach Mrs. Thompson, so he talked to Gene Howe, editor of the Amarillo Globe-News, a visitor here.

"I knew we would make it," commented Mr. Howe, who got famous last year when he quarreled with Mary Garden because he said she gave a "let down" performance in Amarillo. "Our town, Amarillo is the best town in the world."

Miss Peterson, who is in Boston, today was to be told of "the big event back home."

COLUMBUS SUFFERS $300,000 BLAZE

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 1.—Downtown Columbus late yesterday afternoon was thrown into a furor of excitement, when an acetylene blow torch which workers were using at the Home Furniture Company exploded. The fire which followed, spread so rapidly that when firemen arrived, three floors of the six-story building were shooting out flames.

More than half of the city's fire apparatus was called to the scene, before the blaze could be brought under control.

Two firemen were slightly injured by falling glass.

The damage is estimated to be more than $300,000, most of which is covered by insurance.

PEGGY JOYCE ILL

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Peggy Hopkins Joyce, who writes books between marriages, was reported suffering from appendicitis today. It was said she will undergo an operation, possibly today, at the Harbor Sanitarium.

THREE SUSPECTS IN MIDDLE-WEST BANK ROBBERIES CAUGHT

Cleveland Police Capture
Two Men And Woman

CLEVELAND, Feb. 1.—Two men and a woman, suspected in connection with several middle West bank holdups, were captured by eight squads of police in a "Little Hollywood" apartment house here today.

The arrests are believed to have been made on the basis of a "tip" furnished local police by Kansas City authorities.

Several revolvers and a large quantity of ammunition were found in the apartment by police who broke into the apartment. The suspects were asleep at the time of the raid and they were taken without a chance to resist.

The suspects gave their names as Lowell Foster, 34, Garrett Pettit, 22, and Louise Radio, his wife. Evidence that police here believed the suspects to be desperate characters was seen in the manner in which they conducted their raid. Every member of the raiding party was heavily armed and wore bullet-proof steel vests.

Tear bombs were carried by the detectives who broke into the apartment.

Later information received by police authorities here indicated that the trio may be wanted for complicity in a murder in a western city.

SENATE COMMITTEE BELIEVED READY TO QUALIFY TEXAS MAN

Will Give Republicans
Another Vote In Lower House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The Republicans appeared within reach of another member of the house today with elections committee No. 3 believed to be ready to declare Harry M. Wurzbach, Republican, entitled to a seat in the house from the fourteenth Texas district.

A poll of the committee indicated that the majority is convinced that Representative Augustus McCloskey, Democrat, whose seat is contested by Wurzbach, was declared elected as the result of gross fraud in the making of returns.

Startling upsets of the official returns of Bexar County, Texas, of which San Antonio is the county seat, climaxed the ten-day hearing. The committee had tentatively decided to halt its partial recount of sixteen precincts after counting eight of them.

In the eight precincts Wurzbach had gained 300 votes on the basis of the tentative count, with some ballots still questionable. McCloskey's majority for the entire district was only 323.

In all except one of the eight precincts, the ballots gave Wurzbach gains. In the eighth, the result, Wurzbach 52, McCloskey 0, was confirmed by the ballots.

MERGER APPROVED

AKRON, O., Feb. 1.—Consummation of a merger of the Falls Rubber Co., of Cuyahoga Falls, and the Cooper Tire and Rubber Co., of Findlay, O., today rests in the hands of the stockholders who will take action Feb. 17. Directors of the two concerns voted their unanimous approval of the merger yesterday.

THINKS DIVER DIED SHORTLY AFTER HE SUBMERGED IN RIVER

Rescue Diver Says
Strong Current Would Be Fatal

QUEBEC, Feb. 1.—A graphic description of the difficulties encountered in bringing the body of Peter Trans, ill-fated diver, who lost his life at the bottom of the Outarde River, to the surface was related by Levis Begin, expert rescue diver, who is back in Quebec today after several days at the scene of the tragedy.

"When I submerged to locate Trans the water was icy cold," said Begin. "The current was exceptionally strong, between twenty-two and twenty-three miles an hour."

"It didn't take me long to find Trans. He was swept fourteen feet inside the coffer dam. In my opinion he lasted no longer than twenty-five minutes from the time he submerged."

"It took me twelve hours to get his body out of the water. I had to cut away a big part of the coffer dam. I had to tie a heavy rope around him so that the body could swing with the current during the rescue efforts."

"No man could be swept along by the current the way he was and be brought up flush against the base of the dam without sustaining fatal injuries. That is why I think he died so soon after he submerged."

Trans' body was under water sixty-nine hours.

MAN ENDS LIFE

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 1.—Oliver Webber, 58, is dead here today, a victim of his own hand. Ill health is believed to be the motive for his act in committing suicide with a shotgun.

In the eight precincts Wurzbach had gained 300 votes on the basis of the tentative count, with some ballots still questionable. McCloskey's majority for the entire district was only 323.

In all except one of the eight precincts, the ballots gave Wurzbach gains. In the eighth, the result, Wurzbach 52, McCloskey 0, was confirmed by the ballots.

MADE FACES AT EACH OTHER

Prominent Society Women In Huff; Quarrel
Leads To Court

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—How two prominent society women made faces at each other in public was revealed here today, following the dismissal of a disorderly conduct charge against Mrs. Dorothy Stuart Fargo, former wife of James C. Fargo, grandson of the express company founder.

The charge was made by Mrs. Florence Bonnell of Syosset, Long Island, wife of Major

RELIEF RUSHED FOR ICE-LOCKED AREAS NOW FACING FAMINE

Lake Erie Islands Isolated By Floes Without Food

SANDUSKY, O., Feb. 1.—Determined efforts were being made today to provide relief to the ice-locked Lake Erie island region off the mainland here, which was reported to be facing a famine of both fuel and food.

Freezing winter locked the islands with dangerous ice floes last November before the winter's supplies could be laid in. Since then there has been no opportunity to reach the islands except by airplane to provide relief.

Put-In-Bay, North and Middle Bass Islands, according to reports, are running low on coal. Kelleys Island is said to be short of food supplies.

Airplanes have been pressed in to service to fly necessary commodities to the stricken islands.

Several of the islands have been without communication since the winter weather set in. During a particularly heavy storm last December, telephone and telegraph cables running from two of the islands to the mainland were completely ripped.

BRITISH SHIP HELD ON LIQUOR CHARGE

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Feb. 1.—Captured by a coast guard cutter, the British motorship Northern Exchange was held under federal guard here today. Guardsmen reported a small amount of liquor was found aboard the ship.

Captain John P. Tait said the northern Exchange was enroute from Vancouver, B. C., to Ensenada, Mex. He and the other two members of the crew were "held for investigation."

Guardsmen said the ship was captured within one hour's steaming radius of the American coast.

REFLOAT DESTROYER

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The British destroyer Versatile, which went aground in the harbor of Gibraltar when its mooring broke, was refloated today, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch received from Gibraltar.

PRINCE OF WALES SUFFERING COLD

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The Prince of Wales arrived at Johannesburg, South Africa, today suffering from a slight cold, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch received from Capetown.

The prince caught cold while Johannesburg. It is not believed Johannesburg. It is not believed Johannesburg. It is not believed Johannesburg.

After they had quarreled over ownership of some stocks, when the women met in a cafe and they made faces and sneered at each other, it was admitted.

Mrs. Bonnell said Mrs. Fargo slapped her but Mrs. Fargo said she "just covered her face with silly grins" and denied the pugilistic charge.

TWO YOUTHFUL BANDITS HELD

HAMILTON, O., Feb. 1.—Two youthful members of an alleged bandit gang are being held by police here today in connection with a series of robberies in Hamilton, Cincinnati, and other cities in Ohio and eastern Indiana.

The two boys, Arthur Peffley, 19, and Eldon Flora, 20, both of Hamilton, have confessed that, with a third companion whose name is unknown, they obtained loot which totals more than $1,000, police said.

The young confessed bandits were arrested by police here last night with the aid of two merchants of Liberty, Ind., who identified Peffley and Flora as the boys who held up and robbed them in their store.

The third member of the robber trio is being sought throughout southwestern Ohio and Indiana.

FRENCH WILL SEEK 750,000 TON TOTAL

LONDON, Feb. 1.—While the naval conference has not yet gotten down to actual tonnage figures, the basis on which the French delegates are laying their disarmament plans was learned by International News Service today.

In their conversations with the delegations of the other powers, the French have stated frankly that their conference policy is based on an eventual navy totalling 750,000 tons, which it expects to have in commission in 1943.

This navy would include twelve 10,000-ton cruisers compared with Britain's fifteen, otherwise an 80 per cent ratio. The plans also include approximately 125,000 tons of submarines, which is 35,000 tons above France's present undersize fleet.

COMMITTS SUICIDE DUE TO DESPONDENCY

ZANESVILLE, O., Feb. 1.—Despondency because of ill health, is believed today to have been the motive for the suicide of George Baxter, 45, a printer and automobile mechanic. He shot and killed himself in a hotel room here yesterday.

Baxter was stricken with pneumonia a week ago, and refused to be taken to a hospital. Failing to get a response from Baxter's room a hotel clerk forced an entrance and discovered the body.

A widow and two children survive him at Marietta.

STORMS HIT SPAIN

MADRID, Feb. 1.—Storms throughout the country played havoc today with telephone and telegraph communication in Spain. Conditions along the northern coast were especially bad. Shipping suffered much damage.

INSTALL OFFICERS AT POMONA GRANGE MEETING THIS WEEK

Guy Gordon was installed as master of Pomona Grange, by Joseph W. Fichter, Ohio State grange lecturer, who acted as installation officer at the meeting of Pomona Grange with Jamestown Grange at Jamestown, Wednesday.

Other officers installed were: William J. Baker, steward; Paul Harner, assistant steward; David E. Turner, chaplain; Walter St. John, treasurer; Foster Fitzpatrick, secretary; Russell H. Cosler, gatekeeper; Miss Verna Huffman, Ceres; Miss Edna Burrell, Pomona; Miss Mary Jones, Flora and Mrs. Alberta Frame, lady assistant steward.

"Grange Work and How it Should Be Done" was the topic of Mr. Fichter's address during the program of the day.

The lecture hour was directed by Mrs. Elsie J. Campbell, lecturer of Pomona Grange and the hour consisted of special instrumental numbers by Oscar Weller, violin; Mrs. Carl McDorman, cornet and Mrs. Oscar Weller, piano, all of Jamestown Grange. Mrs. Maywood Turner of Miami Grange gave the reading "It Takes a Heap of Livin' in a House to Make a Home". A quartet consisting of Ernest Elliott, Oscar Weller, Ernest Geary and O. D. Clark of Jamestown Grange, sang several numbers. Mrs. Ray Fudge furnished music for the march and Misses Nellie Mossman and Augusta Gustavson of Jamestown Grange were regalia and emblem bearers.

A business session was held in the forenoon and Pomona Grange voted for a visit and exchange of lecture hour programs between Greene County Pomona and Clark County Pomona Granges, this year. Mrs. Campbell reported that since attending the Grange Lecturers' School at Ohio State University last spring, she has prepared and put into the hands of Grange lecturers of Greene County, who did not attend the school, a total of 429 copies of the thirty-one lessons proper which she took in shorthand during the classes and twenty-eight supplementary lessons given with the course. A covered dish dinner was served at the noon hour. N. N. Hunter of Jamestown furnished ice cream for the dessert.

SOCIETY OWES ITS VIRTUE TO CHURCH SPEAKER DECLARES

"The social world, faulty as it may be, owes its virtue to Christian faith," declared George L. Rinkliff, Springfield, president of the Lutheran Brotherhood of Ohio, in an address at the monthly meeting of the Lutheran Brotherhood of Xenia Friday night in the Sunday School rooms of the First Lutheran Church, W. Main St.

Speaking on the subject, "Why is a Brotherhood?" Mr. Rinkliff, who, in addition to his state position as brotherhood president, is also associate secretary of the Lutheran Laymen's Movement of America, outlined the results of mid-winter church and parish visitations. He declared the brotherhood gives man his foremost opportunity to best express himself in the church and that it is a man's training school for Christian service.

The speaker asserted that the Gospel is the one thing that makes a successful church and that the message of the church is not only apt but is applicable to every day and age.

"Politics have changed; kings and queens have been dethroned and persons formerly holding high estates and responsibilities have fallen to humble stations in life but the Gospel has always maintained a high standard.

"Nothing is achieved in the church except that it is done by those in the church. Some persons say the church is out-moded but what do they have to offer as a substitute?"

Mr. Rinkliff, prior to entering exclusively into laymen's work, was city manager of Hampton, Va., and Brunswick, Ga., having served two terms in each city.

C. P. Yowler, president of the local organization, presided at the meeting which was well attended. Later in the evening refreshments were served.

Link Standard Oil Head To Wine Smuggling

Herbert L. Pratt, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of New York, has been charged with receiving $25,000 worth of champagne smuggled into the United States, as a shipment of "flower pots" from France, at his estate at Glen Cove, L. I.

Women to Meet for World Peace

FRAU DOROTHEE VON VELSEN

MISS RUTH MORGAN

KATHLEEN D. COURTNEY

MRS TSUNE GAUNTLET

MME MARIE LOUISE PUECH

If talk can do it, there will be no more war! Prior to the opening of the conference in London, the annual conference of the Committee on the Cause and Cure of War is to convene in Washington, D. C.

Three women of prominence in their respective countries in Europe as well as a fair representative from the Orient, will be present at the meetings to be held at the Hotel Washington from January 14 to 17. Each delegate is armed with the good wishes of her countrywomen and the benevolent wishes of her Government, for such an exchange of sentiments and speeches between women of different nationalities can but further the cause of universal understanding which is necessary to assure world peace.

The foreign visitors include Miss Kathleen D. Courtney, who is honorary secretary of the British Women's Peace Crusade; Frau Dorothee von Velsen, one of the best known feminists of Germany; Madame Marie Louise Puech, who is the French vice-president of the International Federation of University Women. Japan is sending Mrs. Tsune Gauntlett, who has been instrumental in organizing Japan's womanhood into earnest crusaders in the cause of peace. Miss Ruth Morgan, who is the vice-president of the National League of Women Voters, will participate in a forum on peace, to which the visitors will contribute. These women represent the five powers who will participate in the London parleys.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt is to be chairman of the convention, and has announced a comprehensive list of speakers. These will include Gen. Jan Smuts, of South Africa, who was a Boer leader, but who has since been a staunch ally of Britain. He is one of the many distinguished warriors who are working ardently to banish the horrors of war from the earth, and will address the 500 delegates at the banquet to be held at the opening of the conference. Prominent speakers are to review the events previous and subsequent to the signing of the Kellogg pact, and will endeavor to devise means to fill the gaps that are still gaping in the wall of international understanding.

An assignment by Carrington T. Marshall, chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court.

LESSON REVIEWS TO BE INAUGURATED IN SUNDAY SCHOOL HERE

Aiming at a higher standard of Sunday School efficiency in the First Lutheran Church, a complete quarterly program of lesson reviews is planned according to C. F. Mellage, general superintendent. The system will begin at once.

It is pointed out that after the regular Sunday School lesson has been taught by each individual teacher, a ten minute summary or review will be made of the lesson during the closing exercises of the school, to impress certain facts more firmly upon the minds of the scholars. Only the main points of the lesson with perhaps a few illustrations will compose this generalization.

The lesson reviews will be conducted by the regular Sunday School teachers, one being assigned for each Sunday. No fixed method has been determined by the superintendent. That part will be left up to the individual teacher. A maximum time limit of ten minutes will be the only restricting feature.

Those persons who will review the lessons during the remainder of the quarter are: February 2, Mrs. John E. Kohl; 9, John Vanderpool; 16, Alice Gordon; 23, Paul McFarland; March 2, the Rev. Adrian G. Lebold; 9, H. K. Snyder; 16, Mrs. Paul McFarland; 23, E. E. Blackburn, and 30, C. F. Mellage. Prior to the inauguration of this new system, the general superintendent assumed the responsibility of reviewing the Sunday School lessons. It is anticipated that a keener interest will be shown in the new system. Several Springfield and Dayton Lutheran churches are also using the lesson review period with commendable results.

YOU CAN TURN THE SEARCHLIGHT OF RIGID INSPECTION ON OUR PASTEURIZED MILK

The awarding of second prize with a rating only one-tenth of a per cent under the first prize, at the Ohio State Fair, was absolute proof of the superiority of our milk. You get this same quality milk every day when you order our milk. Remember that pasteurizing, correctly done, does not alter the fresh, fine flavor or in any way change the rich quality of the milk.

Our prize winning butter is delicious in flavor—try it! Our Coffee Cream is rich and unexcelled for table use.

Our Whipping Cream is guaranteed to whip or is replaced. Our Creamed Cottage Cheese tastes like old fashioned home made.

ACTING HOME HEADS

HONORED AT BALL
Prominent among social affairs of the new year was the ball given in honor of Col. and Mrs. J. E. Balmer, acting superintendent and official hosts of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home at the auditorium, Wednesday evening from 9 to 12 o'clock.

Members of the senior class, commissioned officers and discharge students were hosts and hostesses of the evening and helped graciously in receiving and entertaining the guests.

The auditorium was simply decorated for the occasion. The guests were received by Miss Harriet Price, formerly a teacher at Ironton, now supervisor of Hayes Cottage; Miss Donna Armstrong and Messrs. Paul Alexander and Robert Yowell, student representatives.

Col. and Mrs. Balmer were escorted to the dance by Capt. Robert Yowell and Miss Lorraine Jobe, student representatives at 9:30 o'clock. Mrs. Balmer carried a beautiful bouquet of roses presented her by cottage supervisors.

Upon the arrival of Col. and Mrs. Balmer dancing began with a grand march led by Mr. Paul Alexander, a member of the senior class.

During intermission Mr. Alexander acted as master of ceremonies and presented a program of character and pantomime dances which were given by Misses Donna Armstrong, Viola Rusk, Pearl Lytle, Viola Peabody and Ruth Lewis. During the latter part of the evening a shower of gayly colored balloons fell from the ceiling upon the dancers.

Bridge and chess was in play during the evening for those who did not dance.

Punch was served during the evening and hot chocolate, sandwiches and cakes were served following the program during intermission.

Paul Smiley and his orchestra of Springfield furnished music for the evening.

SERVICE CLASS MEMBERS CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY.

The tenth anniversary of the organization of the Service Class of the Second United Presbyterian Church, was celebrated Friday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Roy McClellan delightedly entertained members of the class at their home on the Cincinnati Pike with a birthday party.

There were seventy guests present. A program of readings, music and anecdotes was given by Misses Maries and Frances Williamson, Mr. Arnold McCoy, Mrs. William Weiss, Miss Dorothy McCoy and Mr. James Short, Mrs. Richard McClellan, Miss Juanita Rankin, and Mr. Lyle Delph.

A playlet "Getting Rid of an Agent" was presented by Mr. and Mrs. James Wagner and Mrs. Clark Poland.

The committee in charge which was composed of the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClellan, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McClellan, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McClellan, Jr., served a delicious refreshment course at the close of the program and a social time was enjoyed.

The serving table was beautifully decorated for the occasion with a large pink and white birthday cake, decorated with ten pink candles, and was made by Mrs. Robert McClellan.

FORMER XENIAN WEDS IOWA GIRL ON THURSDAY

Miss Mary Margaret Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bell of Waterloo, Iowa and Mr. J. Fred Whitt, former Xenian, and son of Mrs. Zella Whitt, 523 S. Monroe St., this city, were united in marriage at the parsonage of the First Methodist Church at Crown Point, Ind., at 4 o'clock, Thursday, January 23. The Rev. Mr. Strecker read the impressive wedding ceremony.

The young couple was attended by the bride's mother and by Mrs. W. F. Sullivan, a cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Harold Whitt, sister-in-law of the bridegroom. A wedding dinner was served at 6:30 at the Hotel Gary.

Mrs. Whitt has been making her home with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Sullivan at Gary and has been employed in the Gary State Bank.

Mr. Whitt has been living with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Whitt. Mr. Whitt has been employed by the Midwest Motor Coach Co. He attended Xenia Central High School and for three years was enlisted in the army, his term expiring last July.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitt will be at home to their friends in the Ritz Apartments at Sixth and Harrison Sts., Gary, Ind.

ENTERTAINS SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS WITH PARTY FRIDAY

Miss Helen Mouser, W. Main St., delightfully entertained members of the Mizpah Sunday School Class of the First Reformed Church at her home Friday evening.

SHE'S THE VAMP TYPE

But It's All Lost On Ether Says Radio Writer About Betty McLean

(Editor's Note: This is another of a series of sketches of the most prominent radio artists of the day. Others follow.)

By ALMA SIOUX SCARBERRY
CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Betty McLean is a "type."

It makes very little difference whether you are a "type" or not on the air. No one can see you, anyway.

Oh, of course, if you are to succeed, your voice or your music must have a personality. But you may play "Buttercup" and look like a feminine edition of Faust. A "girl" we saw singing "Yum Yum" from "The Mikado" a few nights ago weighed over 200 and was at least 45. Hope we're not shattering any illusions!

But—getting back to Betty McLean—she is an unusual looking girl. The picture will tell you more than a description. She is a vamp type. And it's all wasted on the ether. However, Betty is a real success, even if you can't see her snapping, dark, vampy eyes and her sleek, dark hair. She wore it plastered down, a la Theda Bara, when we watched her broadcast in the studio once.

Play on Stage
First Betty was on the legitimate stage. You may remember her in "The Rear Car," "The First Year," or "Charm." Then she was on the vaudeville big time. Now the radio drama. In vaudeville she was with Frank Keenan. It was when he died that she left the stage for the loud speaker.

There is nothing monotonous about Betty's radio work now. She might almost as well be in dramatic stock when it comes to varied roles and hard work.

Each Tuesday noon she appears with the "Old Reader" in the dramatization of old familiar poems. At 12:35 that same day she plays "Mrs. Johnson" in "The Country Doctor." Wednesday noon she emotes in "Famous Events."

Thursdays at 12:35 she is Abigail in "Choir Practice." As "Jane Murray" she plays Friday noon. "The Quitting Party" knows her as the home economics lecturer. Saturday noon she is Mrs. Dubb of "Mr. and Mrs. Dubb."

Betty should not find it hard to keep out of mischief. She wouldn't have time to even think up a naughty idea. Which, of course,

FORT'S DEFENSE OF PROHIBITION LAW IN UNUSUAL FORM

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Capitol corridors buzzed merrily today with arguments, pro and con, over the rather unique prohibition defense of Rep. Franklin Fort, (R), of New Jersey, in which the erstwhile secretary of the Republican national committee employed the nation to stop trying to think with the eighteen's amendment and the Volstead act and be satisfied, if it must drink, with the light wine which may legally be made in the home for personal consumption.

For the most part, interest centered around Fort's suggestion that it might be advisable to widen the scope of legal home manufacture to include home brew—although the congressman pointed out that no one had ever been molested for making amateur beer for personal consumption.

Rep. Lehlbach, (R), also of New Jersey, planned to answer his colleague today by special permission of the house, and still further dry arguments were to be heard from Reps. Crisp and Brand, (D), of Ga.

Rep. Dyer, (R), of Mo., author of the 275 beer bill, said he construed Fort's speech as an argument for the home manufacture of any kind of intoxicating liquor or beverage.

TAKES COURAGE

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Although Sergeants Michael Casey and Louis Capparelli have received no pay for six weeks, they today handed over two racketeers who, they charged, offered them $1,000 if they would "pass up" arrests.

The detectives trapped the two after a wait of fifteen hours. They gave their names as Ralph Pierce, 26, and Murray Humphries, 45.

NEGRO LYNCHED BY MOB IN GEORGIA

OCEILA, Ga., Feb. 1.—Georgia's first lynching since 1926 swept constituted authority aside, resulting in the wounding of Sheriff W. D. Tyler who attempted to protect his prisoner, and ended the life of Pimpy Irvine, Negro, on a funeral pyre early today.

Irvine had been arrested for attacking and slaying the 14-year-old daughter of a farmer near here. Her throat was cut.

Poses comprising 400 men recruited from three counties sought the Negro all night. Sheriff Tyler, outslighting the mob, had captured the Negro and approached the jail, when he was assaulted in the heart of Oceila by one of the posse groups.

They riddled his car with bullets, effecting slight wounds on the officer, and took the Negro prisoner for a ride in the country. The mob dispersed quietly.

ON FACULTY HERE

C. S. SHUMAKER

Clyde S. Shumaker, Granville, O., is the newest addition to the Xenia Central High School faculty, having been appointed at the close of the first semester of school three weeks ago to succeed W. C. Boyce, who resigned as head of the English department. Mr. Shumaker's assignment at Central is instructing classes in public speaking and he also has charge of the two debating teams at the school.

He is a brother of Earl J. Shumaker, for a number of years head of the English department at Denison University, and he was graduated from Denison in mid-year, having obtained his bachelor of arts degree in three and a half years.

SENTENCED TO PEN FOR THEFT OF SHEEP

Albert Black, 42 Bellbrook Ave., who was indicted by the grand jury for burglary and larceny in connection with the theft of a sheep valued at $15 from Roy Matthews, Jasper Pike, a cousin by marriage, last December 17, was sentenced to from one to fifteen years in Ohio State Penitentiary by Common Pleas Judge R. L. Gowdy Saturday morning. Black had pleaded not guilty but later changed his plea to guilty. Black was arrested after the carcass of a sheep found in his possession was identified by his cousin as the one stolen from him.

BUTLER URGED FOR DORAN'S POSITION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The removal of James M. Doran and the appointment of Major General Smedley D. Butler, former chief of the marines, as prohibition commissioner was advocated today by Senator Brookhart (R) of Iowa, in his campaign to "dry up society."

He declared Butler would enforce the dry law against the "big fellows."

He urged the selection of another man of Butler's "type and integrity" for the post of prohibition administrator in New York City.

BROTHER OF XENIAN CLAIMED BY DEATH

Funeral services for William H. Helser, 56, brother of Fred Helser, this city, will be held Monday morning at 7:30 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. H. H. Helser, 1733 S. Brown St., Dayton, and at 8 o'clock at Holy Angels Church, Dayton. Burial will be made in Graceland Cemetery, Sidney.

Mr. Helser, died at 3 o'clock Friday morning. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. John Koors, two brothers, Fred Helser, Xenia and Edward Helser, Sidney.

MISTAKE TO MISS

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 1.—It's a disgrace for a Kentuckian to go shooting, and not "get his man."

The "get your man" motto, in fact, is encouraged by state statute.

The law, as revealed by State Senator C. R. Luker, states that if a man shoots at another man from ambush and misses him, the maximum penalty is ten years imprisonment in prison, but if he hits his mark, the maximum sentence is only five years. It makes no difference how seriously the man is wounded. If the shooter hits his mark, without killing, he cannot be sentenced to more than five years.

Senator Luker is agitating passage of a bill, which will correct this "reversed law."

HEARING MARCH 11

Hearing on a petition filed in Common Pleas Court by the Xenia Twp. Board of Trustees, requesting that a jury be impaneled to assess the amount of compensation to be paid Bishop J. H. Jones, Wilberforce University, for 34 of an acre of land which the trustees have appropriated over his 200-acre farm in Xenia Twp., for a new roadway leading to Stevenson Cemetery, near Wilberforce, has been assigned for a hearing March 11 by Judge R. L. Gowdy.

DONATES TO HOME

Mrs. Arthur E. Morgan, Yellow Springs, graciously donated two phonographs and several chain swings to children of the Greene County Children's Home, last week. The swings were placed on the play-grounds of both boys and girls.

CORRECTION

THE GAZETTE

Greater Beauty - Finer Performance

Never has a Chevrolet car won greater praise for its appearance than the new Chevrolet Six. Its new Fisher bodies reveal in every detail the artistry that has made the Fisher name famous throughout the motor car world. In beauty of line and color, in balance and harmony of design, they represent one of the greatest style triumphs in Fisher history. And the promise of this exterior beauty is more than fulfilled when you look inside the car. Upholsteries are richer and more durable. The instrument panel carries a new and more attractive grouping of the control instruments. Seats are wider and deeper. In fact, not a single feature has been overlooked that would add to the comfort and convenience of both driver and passengers.

In addition to its new beauty, the new Chevrolet Six represents a remarkable advance in every phase of performance. Its improved six-cylinder valve-in-head engine has been increased to 50 horsepower—giving faster acceleration, greater reserve energy and more comfortable high speeds. Steering has been made safer and easier by a new front axle assembly. Four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers provide exceptional riding comfort. Fully enclosed, internal-expanding, weather-proof brakes give positive braking control. And numerous structural improvements add to the car's dependability, endurance and long life. Come in today and see this car. And remember, it is now available—

ACCIDENTS AND WHY

Varied indeed are the causes of automobile accidents, carelessness often, "chance" sometimes and again deliberate disregard of traffic rules and regulations are all recognized as contributing factors.

Recently certain statistics published:

Because automobile accidents are incidents that may happen to any of us, it is interesting to note what officials of the National Safety Council have to say forming opinions based upon a careful study of the accident situation.

Speaking of "luck," Lewis A. DeBlois, member of the national council claims it is possible to control your luck and he offers a recipe to prove it.

"Appreciate the seriousness of accidents," he says, "and out of this will come a desire to prevent such accidents—and a sense of personal responsibility for their prevention." He advises forgetting all about luck, fate or Providence as a possible dispenser of these unexpected mishaps. Accidents are man-made, and it is up to the individual to foresee the immediate dangers of life and guard against them.

Everyone is subject to accidents, this authority claims, and the fact that you have never had an accident does not mean that you do not need to be careful. You never become immune.

Do not ask the question "who was responsible" when you are brought close to an accident. Try to discover all the causes, and there usually will be many. Get to the bottom of these causes—never be stopped by such generalities as "carelessness" or "human failure." Such generalities are only alibis.

Putting into practice this recipe for the control of your luck will require effort and work, but out of the effort eventually will come safe habits of living.

Answering the question "are auto accidents bound to occur to every driver just so often as a matter of pure chance," another authority offers the following emphatic denial after three years of survey.

"Recognized mathematical methods were used in computing the number of drivers who would be expected to have one, two, three, four and more accidents on the basis of chance alone. This tabulation was then compared with an actual count of the records of 16,700 drivers.

"The number of those who had two accidents or less is roughly the same as would be expected by chance. Those with three accidents were about three times as numerous as would be expected, those with four accidents about 14 times as numerous, and so on until those with seven accidents, although very small in number, were mathematically more than 9,000 times as many as they would have been on the basis of pure chance!"

The calculations showed that, on the basis of pure chance, it is unlikely that any driver would have seven accidents; yet in actuality some operators did suffer seven accidents in three years.

Chance plays a small part in accidents, the report shows. It may be responsible for dangerous situations; but the cause of the accident is usually the driver's inability to extricate himself from these situations.

The groundhog who retires to his hole for the winter follows a natural instinct. The man who knocks off work and hangs around the radiator during the cold months is merely the victim of an acquired laziness.

The excessive use of quotations may mean that the user has read a great deal; and it may also mean that he has done little original thinking.

After listening for years to conversation about the mental age of people, it appears that we must now all endure a lot of talk about their moral age. Sometimes it seems as though civilization were almost a net nuisance.

The WAY of the WORLD

By GROVE PATTERSON

TIME

Time is a poor measuring rod. It means little to say you spend ten hours a day at the office. It means little to say you have lived 50 years. Some men do not spend more than four hours a day at the office, and do more than others who are there eight. Some men at 35 or 40 have accomplished more than old men who die at 90. Time is nothing. Concentration is everything.

DIPLOMATIC COPS

Baltimore has a smart traffic officer. He doesn't want any "hey, there, where you goin'" policemen in the traffic division. Says Captain Atkinson: "I do not want any hard-boiled men in this division. The policeman who treats a motorist in a diplomatic manner for some small infraction of the traffic law accomplishes better results at the corner where he is stationed than one who lets his temper get the best of him."

"Learn to know your public. Smile and make it contagious, and the petty troubles that are magnified by argument and wind up before the magistrate in the traffic court will be done away with."

"A surly officer is usually an incompetent one because he is constantly holding up traffic by arguing over trifling violations."

It would be a happier world if the captains words were heeded in every American city.

AIR MILES

The United States is now linked by air lines with 22 countries. It is the center of a network of nearly 17,000 miles. The longest route is from Miami to Buenos Ayres, almost 6,000 miles. Air transport is a reality beyond the realization of most of us who just now and then see an airplane and perhaps never ride in one.

UNCLE SAM, TEACHER

Uncle Sam is a pretty thoughtful old party. On army or navy reservations or in lighthouses that are far removed from schools the government is offering correspondence courses that children, almost cut off from civilization, may not be deprived of education. There is one thing that distinctly characterizes modern civilization from that of ancient times. The present system distributes its advantages. It reaches up and down and far and wide. Its opportunities are not confined to the few at the top.

BURNING COAL UNDERGROUND

An Iowa man asks 40 patents covering his process of burning coal in the ground and piping the resultant gas to the surface. Never let the idea it's time to close the patent office. There are some good ideas yet to come.

THE QUESTION BOX

CENTRAL PRESS WASHINGTON BUREAU

Answers to questions of information and fact can be obtained by writing to Central Press Bureau, P. O. Box 126, Washington, D. C., and enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. No answers will be given to marital, medical or legal questions.

In answer to J. E. T., members of the United States senate who have previously served as governor in their respective states are: Joseph P. Robinson, Arkansas; Hiram W. Johnson, California; Hiram Bingham, Connecticut; John G. Townsend Jr., Delaware; Park Trammell, Florida; Charles S. Demann, Illinois; Arthur Capper, Kansas; Henry J. Allen, Kansas; Phillips L. Goldsborough, Maryland; David I. Walsh, Massachusetts; Tasker L. Oddie, Nevada; Henry W. Keyes, New Hampshire; Lynn L. Frazier, North Dakota; Coleman L. Blease, South Carolina; Peter Norbeck, South Dakota; William H. McMaster, South Dakota; Claude A. Swanson, Virginia; Henry D. Hatfield, West Virginia; John J. Blaine, Wisconsin; John B. Kendrick, Wyoming. Senators Robinson and Bingham, it perhaps should be added, resigned only a few days after their respective gubernatorial inaugurations, to accept senate posts.

Still Doubtful

Has President Hoover carried his point in favor of army reduction?

The senate has not yet acted on next year's army plans, but the representatives have passed a $455,000,000 financial allowance, or considerably more than the last one. Part of the proposed increase is for civil improvements to be made under army auspices, but part is for military purposes. Representative R. A. Collins of Mississippi, a leading reduction advocate, calls the bill "a tragic disappointment."

Largely Legendary

What were the dates of Homer's birth and death?

Homer, traditionally the author of the Illiad and Odyssey, is supposed to have flourished about the Ninth century, B. C., but it is far from certain that such an individual ever really lived, to say nothing of the lack of definite information concerning his birth and death dates.

The Only Stephen

What president was named Stephen?

Grover Cleveland was christened "Stephen Grover," after the Rev. Stephen Grover, who had preceded the future president's father, the Rev. Richard P. Cleveland, as Presbyterian pastor at Caldwell (N. J.), the younger Cleveland's birthplace. The latter subsequently dropped the first of his two baptismal names.

Popularity of Oleo

Does the government offer any explanation over the increasing demand noted by the dairy publications of oleomargarine in preference to butter?

Not the government. However, Senator Wagner of New York, who also has observed the tendency mentioned, says: "It shows that many families are shifting from a comparatively expensive to a cheaper food staple. Such a lowering of standards does not take place except as a matter of necessity."

Bo-Broadway

By JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

NEW YORK.—A very stout lady said to a very thin little boy at a newsstand:

"Do you carry the Saturday Evening Post?"

And the very thin little boy made answer:

"No, lady, I can't even lift it."

JEANNE EAGLES

Sam Harris was reminiscing the other day of plays and players in his managerial past. Along toward the end he came to "Rain," and Jeanne Eagles. Soft snow was pelting the 45th street windows of his office. He watched the falling flakes, then he turned and thoughtfully to the news-paper man:

"Glad to tell you what I think of Jeanne Eagles. Glad to tell you, or Equity, or anybody. Miss Eagles was the greatest actress in America. She had versatility and that's something our other stars do not have. During all the time she worked for me I never knew her to give anything other than a fine performance. When the curtain rose she was one thousand feet tall. Two weeks before she died she was right here in this office and said to me: 'Don't ever worry about me, Sam Harris. I'll never do anything to hurt you.'"

A BOOK ON NEW YORK

Anybody who wants a good book on New York—things worth seeing while on vacation in these parts—should hasten to get a copy of Ethel Fleming's "New York." For Miss Fleming's "New York" is the city of inexpressible charm, loved and hated and loved again by those who know her. She sets out to establish the fact that "New York City is probably the most skillful purveyor of ready-made amusement in the world," and she succeeds admirably.

A startling thing in connection with all books of this sort is that the interval of a few months be-

Old Joe Grundy Unique Exception As Lobbyist, Caraway Discovers

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON.—To hear Senator Thaddeus H. Caraway tell it, one would think putting a match to a bunch of currency was only the second silliest way of getting rid of money—that the 100 per cent silliest way was to spend it on lobbyists, in an effort to influence congressional legislation.

The Arkansas senator doubtless is right as to money spent on the sort of lobbyists his investigating committee has had most of its fun with recently.

What he evidently forgets is that the lobbyists who do furnish him and his fellow inquirers with so much entertainment were the kind who had no more sense than to be caught, which, in itself, was sufficient proof that they were not very slick lobbyists.

True, as someone is sure to remark, old Joe Grundy was one of the Caraway committee's witnesses and old Joe is a smooth article, if ever there was one.

Indeed yes; but the committee had no fun with old Joe. Old Joe had fun with the committee. Ordinary rules do not apply to old Joe Grundy, anyway.

The type of lobbyists concerning whom Senator Caraway speaks so scornfully really are not worth a penny. They even lack the acumen to cover up their own tracks and avoid smearing everything up with thumbprints. High class lobbyists are too clever to be recognized as lobbyists; otherwise they could not properly be described as high class lobbyists. Inasmuch as Senator Caraway himself cannot spot them for what they are, how can he tell how much influence they are exercising?—they may be influencing him, for all he knows.

Old Joe, however, was in a group all his own as a lobbyist—until three or four weeks ago, when Governor Fisher wished a toga onto him and he became Senator Joseph R. Grundy, of Pennsylvania.

Certainly Senator Caraway will not say that old Joe's lobbying failed of results; the tariff list is full of them.

There is no lumbering breed of lobbyists below him is superior to footmarks and thumbprints. He rather liked to have folk recognize his handiwork, in fact. He was proud of it.

Yes, old Joe was an exception. There is no lumbering breed of lobbyists who ought to operate under cover, but can't learn how and are caught, such as Senator Caraway refers to.

There are the really crafty lobbyists who perfectly appreciate that they need to keep under cover and who do keep under cover, and whom Senator Caraway neglects to take into consideration.

And there was old Joe Grundy, who could easily have kept under cover had he chosen, but was so good that he did not have to.

Old Joe, hearing that a senate lobby committee was doing some investigating, decided that he would enjoy being investigated; so he called in and insisted on it.

The joke finally was on him, in a tween proofreading and publication renders some of the factual data obsolete.

When the oldest colors have faded and the youngest critics have died—New York will still be in the process of completion.

Baking Paper

A sheet of heavy waxed paper will take the place of a baking board. Flour it, and dough will not stick. Throw it away when baking is done.

Maple Mousse

Bring a cupful of maple syrup to boiling point, then pour it over the beaten yolks of three eggs and beat until cool. Whip a pint of cream with the egg whites until stiff, mix with the custard, pour into a mould, seal the edges and pack in salt and ice for four hours.

ORANGE BREAD IS POPULAR

ORANGE BREAD

(Mrs. Mary Morton's Daily Tested Recipe)—Three cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half cup light brown sugar, one-half cup chopped orange rind, two teaspoons orange juice, one to one and one-half cups milk, two tablespoons melted butter. Sift flour. Then measure and add to it the baking powder and salt. Sift again. Add brown sugar. Add milk and stir well. Stir in the orange juice and rind. Next add the melted butter. Pour into small bread pans, those which are about four inches deep, five inches long and two inches wide are the ones suggested. Grease the tins well and put mixture in to two-thirds the height of the pans. Let the filled pans stand for 20 minutes before putting in the oven. Bake from one-half to three-quarters of an hour in a moderate oven—375 degrees.

Peter's Adventures

By Mrs. Florence Smith Vincent

OUT IN THE OPEN

Peter's eyes were certainly not as sharp as Lady Bug's, but straining his gaze skywards, at last he caught sight of a speck winging in from the distance. The speck grew larger and larger.

"The mighty hunter can't catch me now!" shrilled Lady Bug, and her voice was shrill with fear. "If he tries to nab me he will tear his wing on the point of the stone right in front of us. Look out, boy. Don't go to far. If you value it at all, keep your head under cover."

It was good advice, but Peter didn't take it. He was too curious. Instead, he crawled out from under the forget-me-not blossom into the open. Then he wished he hadn't.

The flying form now was directly over the boy's head, and the boy saw a long, slender body narrowing down at one end to a point as sharp as a needle. What powerful wings the fellow had! Why, one blow from one of them could knock a fellow senseless. But how beautiful they were! The sun shone full upon them, and they sparkled with all the bright colors of the rainbow.

It was not the needle-sharp body, though, nor the strong wings, at sent a shiver of fear through Peter nor made his skin prickle. It was the fierce face, with its many eyes, that glared down at the boy. At last Peter could stand neither quiet nor silent under the piercing gaze of those eyes. He must say something, no matter what the consequences.

"Hello, friend!" cried he trying to keep his voice from shaking. "I'm glad to see you, but don't stare at me like that, if you please. It makes me nervous."

The unexpected happened. The fierce face softened, the cruel eyes twinkled—all of them at once. The set mouth stretched in a wide grin.

"Scared of me, are you?" chuckled Sir Dragon-Fly. "Well, you tell the truth, at any rate—a thing few do. What don't you like about me, looks, Sir?"

"I don't know exactly," Peter confessed. "But it makes me feel creepy. Excuse me for mentioning it, Sir, but your face is not like any face I've ever seen. It seems to be all eyes!"

Diet and Health

By LULO HUNT PETERS, M. D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

Diabetic Symptoms

"DEAR DOCTOR: During the hot summer months, I am all in and can hardly drag myself around. But I always used to feel better when the cooler weather came. However, this winter I am still feeling bad. My symptoms are a voracious appetite, craving for sweets, a fullness of the stomach after eating; I am nervous and quickly angered. I finally decided to see a doctor, who said I was anemic and that there was sugar in the urine. This worries me a great deal. Do you think I could overcome this condition by watching my diet and taking a good blood builder, or do I need a physician's care?" MRS. H.

The voracious appetite and other symptoms, combined with sugar in the urine, look suspiciously like diabetes, Mrs. R. And anyone suffering from diabetes certainly needs the personal supervision of a physician who understands that disease. The blood tonics you need is the correct diet which he will prescribe, to free the blood of excess sugar (when this is done, it disappears from the urine).

(We have a list of books written for the laymen by diabetic specialists, which will help you to carry out his directions.)

You didn't say whether you are overweight or not, but I can well imagine you are. Diabetes in adults is preceded by overweight in over 75 percent of the cases. This is one of the reasons I talk so incessantly on the importance of normal weight and the methods of attaining and maintaining it.

We have a pamphlet on Reducing and Gaining which gives instructions. See column rules for obtaining this.

"DEAR DOCTOR: Will you please print the solution one of your correspondents recently sent in to you, one which helped her hair grow? I clipped it out but lost it." MRS. B.

We have had many requests to reprint this formula, therefore I'll tell you that the prescription the correspondent used was a mixture of two ounces of bayrum to one of glycerine, which she massaged into her head very thoroughly, twice a week.

If you read my article carefully, you will remember that I said it probably was not the prescription that caused the growth of hair, in her case, but some change for the better in her glands, which her history indicated had been disturbed.

We have an article on the care of the hair and scalp which you may have. See column rules for obtaining this.

MRS. H.—There is no home treatment for cancer; you must see a physician. Perhaps what you have is not a cancer at all; cancer is your own diagnosis. But anything that does not heal up within a normal period of time should be investigated. If necessary, you should go to the nearest large city to visit a specialist.

If you are interested in literature on Cancer, write to the American Society for the Control of Cancer, 25 West 43rd street, New York City.

MRS. E—I don't believe you worry at the time you were carrying your baby, had anything to do with his mental condition. As he seems to be gifted along certain lines, he could no doubt advance along those, special lines if he had a specialized training.

There are forms of apparent stupidity that are due to glandular disturbances and I think it would be wise to take your boy to a physician (known as an endocrinologist) who understands these. You probably would have to visit a city.

No manipulations of his spine, no matter how glowingly advertised they are, are going to affect your boy's mentality.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose nor give personal advice. Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column in their turn. Requests for articles or pamphlets on hand must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, plus the following "mail charge to help cover cost of printing and handling: for each article wanted, two cents in coin; for each pamphlet ten cents in coin. The pamphlets are Reducing and Gaining, Hygiene of Women, Kidney and Bladder Disorders. Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper. Write legibly, and not over 200 words.

Living and Loving

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

A TROUBLED BOY: The only fair thing to do is to tell both girls just how it is with you. You are really too young to think of marrying for a time, anyhow, and in the meantime things may clear up. The girls may change, too, so that your problem will be simplified. As the first girl is four years younger than you, she is very likely to change her mind.

"Dear Virginia Lee: I am coming to you for some information about trained nurses. Do you have to go to high school to be a nurse? How old do you have to be before you can become a nurse? Do you know where I could purchase some good information about trained nurses?"

"WONDERING BLONDE." Most of the better class hospitals require a high school education, or its equivalent before taking the nursing training. A girl has to be 18. Write to Mrs. Clara Peterson Holmes, 4569 Gibson avenue, St. Louis, Mo., for the other information you want. She is secretary of the state nurses' association.

"Dear Virginia Lee: I have had a girl friend for ten years and we have been very intimate. Now another girl has broken into our friendship and spoiled everything. My friend wants me to be nice to this intruder I can't. Could you?" "POLLY TRUE."

Pretty hard thing to do, I know.

Polly True. But, you remember the Red Queen in "Through the Looking Glass," said that if you took a long breath you might be able to believe several impossible things, even before breakfast. Believe you can do this seemingly impossible thing, and maybe you can.

For instance, shut your eyes and take a deep breath, and then look at this intruder and see if you can't find some nice things about her that you can honestly like. Think of her as another girl, not as a rival in your friend's affections. Then be as nice to her as you know how, and do as many things for her as you can, and see if, instead of your friendship with the first one being broken, you can make two good friends where one grew before.

"Dear Virginia Lee: I am a girl 14 years old and need your advice. I am a blonde and considered pretty, but I do not seem very popular with the boys. Please tell me how I may become popular." "BLONDE."

I have just been reading a story—a child's story—which told about a little girl who was very lonely and unhappy. An old locksmith told her she needed just the keys to open human hearts. The first is "forget yourself," the second, "do the other person a kindness," and the third, "find out what interests the other person most." Boys are humans, just like girls, and these three keys will open their hearts, too.

ORGANIZATION DEEMED NECESSARY TO SOLVE AGRICULTURAL PROBLEMS

By ARTHUR M. HYDE

Secretary of Agriculture.

(Arthur M. Hyde was born at Princeton, Mo., July 12, 1877. He is a graduate at the University of Michigan and the State University of Iowa. From 1900 to 1915 he practiced law at Princeton, Mo. He was mayor of Princeton from 1908 to 1910. In 1915 he moved to Trenton. From 1921 to 1925 he was governor of Missouri. He was appointed secretary of agriculture by President Hoover.)

American agriculture can solve its manifold problems if the farmers will accept the opportunity offered them through the provisions of the agricultural marketing act and the program of the federal farm board.

Farmers have it within their own power to meet and solve the farm problem, but first of all they must organize. Then through their own organizations, it will be possible to set up an instrumentality that will enter the markets of the world in the sole interests of agriculture.

Responsibility for the unfavorable farm situation can be placed upon the too rapid expansion of the industry. I am opposed to the continued cultivation of marginal lands. This land will not support an American standard of living, and farmers who continue to cultivate these poor acres do so at the expense of their wives and children. It is time to shift some of the burdens of taxation from farmers and farm lands. Taxes should be derived from income, and not capital, and in the case of many farmers present taxes are a drain on capital.

There is an erroneous belief among farmers in the east that relief measures undertaken by the federal government are largely for the benefit of agriculturists in the west. The agricultural marketing act proposes "the organization of all farmers of the United States to their mutual benefit."

There is no one branch of American agriculture that is not interested in what every branch of American agriculture is doing. There exists a solidarity of our agriculture that cannot be overlooked.

I differ with those who take a pessimistic view of agriculture. I offers many opportunities to the youth of the country.

Agriculture is not static as asserted by many. Agriculture has kept pace with the discoveries of science, and it has made application of inventions with as great cleverness as has industry.

CENTRAL RESERVES AND JUNIORS LOSE TWO CLOSE GAMES

Junior High Loses 16-14; Reserves Lose 13 To 12

Dayton Oakwood High School's reserve and junior high basketball teams ruined the celebration of Friday night as "Central Junior High Night" at the Xenia Central gymnasium by winning both games played.

In the preliminary the Oakwood reserves eked out a 13 to 12 victory over the "Little Bucs" and the Oakwood Juniors made it a grand slam for the evening by defeating Patterson's fast Junior quintet, 16 to 14 in the main contest, thereby snapping the Central Junior winning streak of six straight games.

Central Juniors, trailing by ten points at the close of the third quarter, made a strong bid for victory in the last period, scoring eight points and at the same time holding the visitors without a single point, but the rally fell two points short. Oakwood Juniors led throughout the contest, holding a margin of 6 to 2 in the first period, 11 to 6 at the half and 16 to 6 at the conclusion of the third period.

Miller, forward, with six points, topped the Oakwood attack. Batson tallied seven points for Central Juniors and "Red" Hook played a fine floor game.

In the preliminary reserve game, the Oakwood seconds also held a small margin throughout the entire game, leading 7 to 2 in the opening quarter, 9 to 4 at the half and 11 to 8 in the third stanza. The "Little Bucs" spurted in the last period but could not quite make the grade. Serviss shot three baskets for the winners and the Xenia scoring was evenly apportioned between six players, each of whom made two points. Xenia reserves lost the game on fouls as they outscored the invading team from the field. The lineups:

Bowling Scores

The Chappel Motor Co. bowling team, occupants of third place in the City League, established a new league record for high team single game this season while winning two out of three games from the Flexmode shoes Friday night. After rolling two mediocre team scores, the Chappel quintet crashed through with a 551 total, exceeding by seven pins the former league mark of 544 held by the league-leading Downtown Country Club team. St. John topped the winners with 586 and Birk led the losers with 506. In another City League match the same evening the Hoover and Allison Co. won the odd game in three from the American Legion. Murrell was best for the H. and A. with 466 and Messenger had a 510 total for the Legion. Box scores:

MIAMISBURG LOSES LOOP GAME TO TROY IN SURPRISE CONTEST

Victim of a sensational upset, Miamisburg High School's basketball team was virtually eliminated from the race for the Miami Valley League championship when Troy High rose to the heights and defeated the Burgers 26 to 23 in a bitterly fought contest in which an overtime period was necessary to bring in the verdict Friday night on the Trojan floor.

The setback was the second in the league for Miamisburg and also marked Troy's second league triumph. As a result Piqua is left in undisputed possession of second place and Troy and Miamisburg are tied for third position.

Both teams played a cautious game in the first quarter, each scoring three points. Troy speeded up in the second period and obtained a lead of 13 to 8 at the half. The Trojans maintained their margin until the last minute of play when R. Weaver, Burger guard, dribbled the entire length of the floor to pierce the net with his fourth basket, which evened the score at 22 all. In the overtime session field goals by R. Scott and May gave Troy its victory as Miamisburg's only scoring in the extra period was a free throw by Keiser.

Seeh topped Troy's scoring sum-

Poems that Live

DEFIANCE

CATCH her and hold her if you can—

See, she defies you with her fan,

Shuts, opens, and then holds it spread

In threatening guise above your head.

Ah! Why did you not start before

She reached the porch and closed the door?

Simpleton! will you never learn

That girls and time will not return;

Of each you should have made the most;

Once gone, they are forever lost.

In vain your knuckles knock your brow,

In vain will you remember how

Like a slim brook the gamesome maid

Sparkled, and ran into the shade.

The Theater

Dearth of stories in Hollywood is being overcome in some instances by making talkie revivals of successful silent pictures of the by-gone days. "Witness" "The Virginians," "Evangeline" and other flickers remade with sound.

Now Douglas Fairbanks, of whom you may have heard, is considering remaking "The Thief of Bagdad" with sound and has engaged a prominent composer to write the score immediately. Fairbanks originally produced "The Thief of Bagdad" years ago with Julianne Johnstone as the Princess who journeyed with him on the magic carpet. The silent was an artistic and financial success.

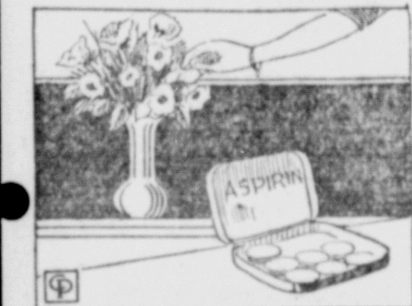

Norma Shearer's picture for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer which was originally called "Ex-Wife" has had its name changed to "The Divorcee". The story was originally purchased for Greta Garbo. After it was made with the Shearer it was okayed by the Will Hays office with the restriction that the title would have to be changed. That helps a lot.

An interesting situation occurred during the filming of "Young Eagles", Buddy Rogers' picture when Director Billy Wellman wanted to microphone an airplane battle from the air.

The mike was rigged up beneath the basket of a balloon which was anchored at about 500 feet in the air. When Gene Moritt, who was in charge of registering the sound, put on his ear phones he was surprised to hear a musical program. It developed that the cable which was to transmit the sound to the amplifiers on the ground, acted as an antennae that picked up the radio program from Station KNX. The balloon had to be lowered to within 100 feet of the ground before the microphone would function properly.

A number of movie stars will take part when Paul Whiteman will celebrate his first anniversary on the air for Old Gold next Tuesday night, February 4. Harry Richman, stage, screen and night club star, will be the principal guest star, featuring songs from his picture, "Puttin' On the Ritz". Lew Cody will be master of ceremonies and other stars to participate will be Richard Arlen, Jack Oakie, Madge Bellamy, Lola Lane, June Clyde, Lilian Roth, Sam Coslow, Lawrence Lambert and Mildred Harris Chaplin.

HEIR ATTEMPTS TO HALT WITHDRAWAL OF ESTATE FUNDS

George L. Jameson and The Commercial and Savings Bank, Xenia, are named joint defendants in an injunction suit filed in Common Pleas Court by Homer Jameson, who claims that a sum of money on deposit in the savings department of the bank belongs to the estate of Jennie Hickman, deceased, of which he and the defendant George L. Jameson are sole heirs, and that George Jameson threatens to withdraw the money and place it beyond the reach of the administrator of the estate.

The plaintiff asserts that an application for the appointment of an administrator is on file and is pending in Probate Court and that the fund deposited in the bank appears on the books of the firm either in the name of the decedent or the defendant.

A temporary restraining order to enjoin the defendant from withdrawing the money and to prevent the bank from releasing the fund is sought in the petition.

TWO WIN DIVORCE

Divorces have been granted in Common Pleas Court to Henry Knepp from Anna Knepp on grounds of extreme cruelty and wilful absence from home for more than three years, and to Florence Rummel from Floyd Rummel on grounds of extreme cruelty. In the Rummel case, the mother was awarded custody of a minor son, Howard, and the matter of the child's support was referred to Juvenile Court for determination.

UNIVERSITY SUED

Alleging $381.88 is due from Wilberforce University on a promissory note, Schaar and Co., 556 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago, Ill., has brought suit in Common Pleas Court through Attorney Morris D. Rice, Osborn, for recovery of this amount.

WINS JUDGMENT

The Miami Deposit Bank, Yellow Springs, has been awarded a note judgment for $479.10 against Otto Struwing and Mrs. Phenomena Struwing in Common Pleas Court.

CONTEMPT CHARGE FILED

In the case of Dumitra Comanescu against Katherine Comanescu in Common Pleas Court, as a result of charges filed by the defendant against the plaintiff, alleging disobedience of a former court order directing the payment of $7.50 a week temporary alimony, the plaintiff has been ordered to appear in court February 4 at 9 a. m. to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt.

HEARING FIXED

Application filed in Probate Court seeking to admit to probate the last will of H. H. Dice, late of Xenia, has been assigned for a hearing at 12:30 p. m. January 31.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Bert Clevenger, Wilmington, farmer, and Virgie Tolle, Wilmington, were refused a license because of non-residence.

Ernest Smith, 223 E. Euclid Ave., Springfield, night watchman, and Josie May Walker, 10 N. Columbus St., Xenia, Rev. Amos.

COUNTERFEITER'S STORY DISBELIEVED

BERLIN, Jan. 31.—Little stock was taken today in the allegations of Basilus Sadathieraschvili, one of several Russians on trial charged with forging American $100 notes, to the effect that the Soviet government had flooded Europe with counterfeit bills.

Erich Von Liebermann, chief of the forgery department of the Berlin police, characterized the defendant's allegations as "anti-Soviet propaganda" or an invention of the defendant calculated to show his innocence.

TIRING OF VAUDEVILLE "RED HEAD" RETURNS TO FIRST LOVE

BERNADINE HAYES
Bernadine Hayes

(Editor's Note: This is another of a series of sketches of the most prominent radio artists of the day. Others follow.)

By ALMA SIOUX SCARBERRY
Central Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—This little gal comes from the state where you have to "show 'em." And Bernadine Hayes did just that.

She up and went to St. Louis near where she was born and showed that a red headed girl could sing the blues like nobody's business. Now they call her "The Red Head of the Air."

Teddy Joyce and his band were in St. Louis and heard her sing. They took her away from the station and on a nice long tour in vaudeville with them. Later she appeared with Ed Lowry.

Returns to First Love

But Bernadine didn't care so much about long, tiresome train trips and strange towns and strange theaters all the time. So, she went back to her first love—the "mike." However, like many of the long silent screen actresses—Bernadine had discovered she had a dramatic speaking voice.

Now she appears on the radio Friday noon as Frances Nichols, the gabby village matron, in "The Quilting Party." Each Saturday at 12:35 in the afternoon she is Lib, the mountain gal, who has such a time untangling the tangled romance in "Market Day."

Bernadine looks about her suddenly breaking forth into dramatics after being a blues singer all this time.

"I was the most surprised person you ever saw when they wanted me to try out for dramatic parts. I laughed at them. But—you can never tell what you can do until you try it. It sounded terrible. Singing is different somehow. Dramatics had always sort of frightened me."

"Over the air where people can't see you—and you have to depend entirely on the inflection in your voice and your expression, it is hard to put a character over so that people sitting in their homes will imagine they are seeing a show. I couldn't think I could."

"But I took the parts and studied them and practiced in my room until I almost imagined after a while I was Lib or Frances Nichols. Now I almost think I'd rather act than sing. There is one nice thing about radio dramas. You don't have to learn your lines and worry about forgetting them. You read them. If I had to learn all that every week, I might not feel so jolly about it."

Doesn't Miss Applause

Bernadine was asked whether she missed the crowds and the applause. She shook her red head and her greenish eyes sparkled:

"Not with all the fan letters I get. That is applause you can keep and read over when you are discouraged. Hand-clapping applause is sometimes just sort of routine. You do it because the person beside you is making noise."

"But—in radio, when someone sits down and writes you a letter—that is real applause. I don't think I'll ever go back. Not if I see them first!"

STENOS USE COPS' SCALES

LORAIN, O., Feb. 1.—"Whoopie! I'm losing weight!"

That's the daily cry heard from a collection of City Hall stenographers who gather about the scales in the office of Detective George Knapp.

The "stenos" dash over to Knapp's office daily during their luncheon hour to stand upon the scale. Several of them are alleged to be overweight and are more than anxious to regain those "girlish figures."

But, an explanation is needed as to why the scales are in the detective's office. It's the result of an edict that Lorain's policemen must eliminate the waistline and be able to shoot straight.

"Corpulent and clumsy policemen won't be tolerated," Safety Director Simon Austin declared. "A policeman can't be at his best when he is tottering around a load of excess weight."

To date, however, the policemen haven't had much chance to use the scales to find out how their tonnage stands. The "stenos," they claim, are "hogging" the scales.

FIVE DAY WEEK IS ADOPTED BY LABOR

PORTSMOUTH, O., Feb. 1.—A "five-day week" working schedule today had been adopted by several labor organizations here, in place of the present six-day and five-and-a-half day schedules.

The following unions who have adopted the new schedule are: Plumbers, carpenters, hoisting engineers, electrical workers, lathers, hod carriers, building laborers and iron workers.

The new program will go into effect April 1.

KILLER CONVICTED

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—A jury today returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree in the case of Hyman Hirsch, charged with shooting to death Dr. Jacob Gross, on October 28, 1927, during a holdup in the latter's dentist offices.

The jury deliberated eighteen hours. Hirsch was remanded to the Tombs and will be sentenced February 10.

EAGLE FLIES AWAY WITH COLLIE DOG

SHELBY, O., Feb. 1.—A collie dog belonging to Steve Gwartz, a farmer who resides near here, had a thrilling ride in the air when an eagle attempted to carry it away.

The bird was unable to carry the dog far, however, being compelled to drop its heavy load. The collie was unharmed. The eagle was later captured in a nearby field, and was found to have a wing spread of seven feet.

THIS IS THE YEAR OF VALUES AND THE NEW WILLYS SIX IS THE VALUE OF THE YEAR!

... 72 MILES AN HOUR

48 IN SECOND ... 65 HORSE-POWER ... RICH BROADCLOTH UPHOLSTERY ... INTERNAL 4-WHEEL BRAKES ... HYDRAULIC SHOCK ABSORBERS

The 1930 Auto Shows throughout the country have been a succession of triumphs for the new Willys Six. The immediate popularity and impressive sales of the Willys Six prove how great has been the demand for just such a car—an inexpensive Six with speed and power capabilities unprecedented in the low-priced field.

And the high-compression engine of the Willys Six is economical to operate. You get unusual mileage per gallon of gas and oil, not only at low speed, but also at the modern cruising speeds of 35 to 45 miles an hour.
